CARTHAGE BOY KILLS CHUM IN SCUFFLE OVER .38 REVOLVER

Howard McDaniel, 13, is Dead as Result of What is Said to be Accidental Shooting.

ROY LIMSCOTT, 15, HELD GUN

Coroner A. G. Shauck Puts Boy Under Severe Test Before Returning Final Verdict.

INQUEST THIS AFTERNOON

Grand Jury Holds Over Until Saturday in Case it is Called to Investigate Tragedy.

While engaging in a friendly scuffle over a 38 calibre revolver, owned in partnership, late yesterday at their home in Carthage, Howard McDaniel, aged 13 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al McDaniel of Carthage, was killed instantly when the revolver was accidentally discharged, and Roy Limscott, age fifteen years, son of Mrs. Viola Limscott of the same place, who held the gun, was not hurt.

When the Limscott boy realized what had happened, he ran home as fast as his legs would carry him. He is in a bad condition as a result of the mental anguish he has undergone since the accident. The two boys have been chums since early childhood and were together almost constantly. Young Limscott refuses to be consoled.

Carl Walker, age fifteen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of Carthage, was with the two boys and the only witness to the accident. When the Limscott boy fled, Walker ran to an elevator nearby and notified the men that his boy friend had been accidentally shot through the nose.
When the men arrived at Howard Mc-Daniel's side, he was dead.

A physician was called finally, but his services were not needed. The boy's body was removed to the Lewis undertaking establishment in Carthage and Dr. J. G. Shauck of Arlington, county coroner, was called.
He held an inquest at the undertaking establishment last night.

Dr. Shauck said this morning that he was not ready to return a verdict.
Only six witnesses were examined yesterday evening. That the verdict may not be that of accidental shooting might be inferred from the statement of the county coroner this morning, but it is likely that will be the conclusion at which he will arrive.

Coroner Shauck conducted another inquest at Carthage this afternoon. Up until this time the Limscott and the Walker boy had told the same story in every detail. There have been so many versions of the shooting recited that the coroner separated the two boys this afternoon to question them further.
Young Limscott was taken to a blacksmith shop in Carthage and Carl Walker was detained at the undertaking establishment.

All sorts of rumors concerning the tragedy were afloat both in Carthage and here today. Some expressions were heard to the effect that the shooting was not accidental but intentional. One story was that the Walker and the Limscott boy wanted McDaniel to go to a sugar camp near Carthage, and that when he refused, they dragged him up the railroad.
He resisted them, it was told. Another tale was that Limscott jumped off a car and deliberately shot his chum, but this is said to be absolutely false. A Carthage man told here this morning that two women saw

Limscott and Walker dragging Mc-Daniel up the railroad after he was shot.

It was said at the court house this afternoon that the grand jury, which intended to adjourn for good today, had decided to hold over until Saturday in case it was called on to make an investigation of the shooting.
This action led to the opinion that possibly a charge would be preferred against Limscott.

The boys were on their way home from school, which is on the extreme eastern edge of Carthage, when the accident happened. After they had crossed the Big Four railroad near the Frank Tweedy lumber yards, it seems that an argument arose over who should carry the revolver.

The testimony at the inquest was to the effect that the Limscott boy and the McDaniel boy owned the gun jointly. Young Limscott had been carrying the revolver all day, and the McDaniel boy decided that it was about time he should have it in his possession for a while.

When Howard McDaniel requested his chum to hand over the gun he refused, according to the stories of both Limscott and Walker. The Mc-Daniel boy insisted that Limscott give him the revolver to carry the rest of the day, but the latter steadfastly refused.

Both the Limscott and the Walker boy declare that it was only a friendly scuffle in which the chums engaged in after the argument over the possession of the gun. They have said repeatedly that there were no hard feelings as the result of the discussion and that, although the McDaniel boy was determined to take the revolver from his friend by force there was no intimation that he would fight if he did not get it.

The Limscott boy professes not to know how the gun was ever discharged. He says he was holding it with a death-grip when his friend started in to take it away from him. The next thing he knew, he testifies, the revolver exploded and his chum fell over in the road bleeding profusely at the nose and in the shoulder where the bullet entered.

The Limscott boy declares he was so frightened that he knew nothing else to do except to run home. He rushed to his mother and told her of the tragedy. He later returned to the scene of the shooting with his mother after others had been notified and a physician had been summoned.

Young Limscott tells that the revolver had been loaded by him early yesterday morning, but that he intended to remove the cartridges before the day passed. He declares that he forgot for the moment, when the argument began, that the gun was loaded.

The fact that the victim of the shooting bled at the nose caused the Walker boy to run and tell men at the elevator that young McDaniel had been shot in the nose. The bullet entered the youth's body just under the right collar bone and ploughed its way through, passing out just under his left shoulder blade.

Dr. J. G. Shauck says that the bullet passed in the region of the heart and severed the largest artery that carries blood from the heart. There seems to be no doubt but what death was almost instantaneous.

All three of the boys come of the families which are highly respected in Carthage. The McDaniels and the Limscotts have lived in Carthage for a number of years and the Walker family moved to Carthage about eight years ago.

The prevailing opinion in Carthage is that the shooting was purely accidental. Much regret has been expressed that such an unfortunate accident should occur.

Mrs. Al. McDaniel, mother of the victim of the shooting, is a niece of Mrs. Frank G. Hackleman.

WHO IS TO SIGN THE AFFIDAVIT?

Prosecutor Dennis O'Neil Says it is Not he and Claims it is up to Assessor.

CLAIMS ARMSTRONG REFUSED

Positively Denies Receiving Five Dollars From William Miller For Delinquent Dog Tax.

Prosecutor Dennis O'Neil today gave his view of the delinquent dog tax situation and emphatically denied that he had received five dollars from William Miller of Jersey City in payment for his tax. The prosecutor has twenty-six affidavits charging delinquent dog tax in his office and the whole situation hinges on who is to sign them.

The prosecutor states that he was given the list and drew up the affidavits and when presented to J. Vincent Young, trustee of Rushville township to be signed, he refused.

According to Mr. O'Neil the affidavits must be sworn to and Mr. Young and the assessor, Sprawl Armstrong, refused. "They expect me to swear to them when I don't know whether or not the man charged in the affidavit was the owner of a dog on March 1," said Mr. O'Neil.

Mr. O'Neil claims that the trustee and the assessor both have refused to swear to any of the complaints and then "knock" him for not doing so, when in reality he would be swearing to a lie. The prosecutor says if he swore out the affidavits and did not know for a positive fact that the man had a delinquent dog on March 1 every case tried would be beaten. "To make things hotter they continually refer to that dog of mine," said Mr. O'Neil. Once and for all let me say that dog is not mine."

The prosecutor stated that if the dog was his and the other twenty-five cases were to come to trial he would make more than enough in fees alone to pay the tax. He explained that the dog was given his step-son by a Mr. Martin to kill. The boy and Mrs. O'Neil did not have the heart to kill the dog and just let it stay around their house. Mr. O'Neil says he does not own the dog and can beat the case if it ever comes to trial.

In speaking of the money he is alleged to have received from William Miller, the prosecutor stated it was all to the "punk." "I defy anyone of the twenty-six men to say I ever received a cent from them," said Mr.
O'Neil. "If this man Miller thinks he paid me, let him produce his receipt. Why, I don't even know the man. I have been as good a prosecutor as Rush county ever had and to say I am a thief is certainly the limit."

The grand jury was in session again today and reports stated that the business was about completed. It was rumored that they were investigating the Blackmon-McCann case, with the intentions of indicting Blackmon for blackmail.

COURT RESERVES FIRST DECISION

Judge Blair Dissolves Restraining Order Against Sheriff Bebout in Seward Saloon Case.

PLACE WILL NOT BE CLOSED

Planned to Hear Injunction Suit This Term—$5,000 Damage Suit on Today.

Judge Blair this morning handed down a decision in the circuit court dissolving the restraining order recently granted by him against the sheriff of Rush county to prevent the sheriff from closing the saloon of Basil Seward, whose license was revoked by the county board of commissioners, and who has appealed from the verdict of the commissioners to the Rush circuit court.

It is understood that the saloon will not be closed pending the final hearing of the case which will be before this term of court ends. An effort was made this morning by attorneys for each side to agree on a date for the hearing of the injunction asked by Seward, but no date was fixed. It is thought that the case will be taken up some time next week.

It is understood by the court that there is an agreement between the attorneys for Seward and the county attorney, who represents the sheriff and the county commissioners, that the bond which has been filed by Seward, pending the appeal to the circuit court, is sufficient to cause the sheriff to refrain from closing the saloon until the final hearing of the case.

It is understood that the decision on the injunction asked by Seward against the commissioners and the sheriff will be a step toward settling the case. If the court should fail to grant an injunction to Seward, it is said it would mean he upheld the commissioners in revoking the license of Seward. In case he should grant an injunction the action of the commissioners would be null and void, it is said. After that the original appeal must be heard.

The court dissolved the restrain-ing order against the sheriff for the reason that attorneys for Seward in the complaint for a temporary restraining order did not state at any place that Seward is or was the owner of the saloon. They did not state what his good will is or was worth.
The court pointed out the complaint said he had a stock and fixtures there but it never stated once that he was the owner of the saloon. In rendering his decision Judge Blair declared that the sheriff is one of the highest officials in the county and should not be hindered in doing his duty unless there is some good cause for it.

The Seward saloon case has had a stormy career in court. After the license was revoked by the commissioners, after a troublesome hearing, the saloon was closed by the sheriff.
Seward's attorneys appealed for a temporary restraining order and it was granted by Judge Blair at Shelbyville. In a few days it was dissolved on a motion of the county attorney on account of a technical error. Another restraining order was promptly granted and the motion to dissolve it was argued in court last Friday.

The case of Mrs. Thomas McAllister, wife of the chief of police, against Clyde Miller for $5,000 damages, alleged by her to be due for injuries received in falling through a grating in the sidewalk in front of the Grand hotel, was heard by a jury in the circuit court today. A number of witnesses were examined.

The divorce suit of Lulu Weeks against George Weeks will be tried tomorrow.

Henry J. Martin was arrested last night in Greenfield on a warrant sworn out by the Hancock county after his escape resulted in the find-

A reward of $200 has been offered for his apprehension. His father, who denies assisting him in his flight,

Tom J. Geraghty Works "Home Town" in Issuing "The Little Herald."

OWLS CLUB ANNUAL DINNER

"The Little Herald," published every year in the decade by the Owl dinner committee of the New York Herald staff, has reached the exchange desk of the Daily Republican.
The chief significance to "The Little Herald" is the fact that Tom J. Geraghty, formerly editor of the Republican, is a member of the Owl dinner committee and hence one of those clever New York Newspaper men who "put out" the diminutive paper for the annual dinner of the Owls.

Now the Owls are not in reality Owls. They are a little exclusive club and consist wholly of members of the New York Herald staff. Whenever a certain period has elapsed, generally consisting of a number of months, usually twelve, the Owls of the Herald hold a banquet. "The Little Herald" is served as one of the courses, and a delightful course it is.
"The Little Herald" is replete with nonsensical foolishness. Once in a great while, when perusing the columns of the diminutive paper, it is

WATSON SPEAKS TO CREDIT MEN

Makes Appeal for National Confidence in Established Principles in an Address at Banquet.

IS TIME OF "AGAINSTNESS"

Says "Swat Him" Slogan Endangers Nation—Claims This is Age of Transition.

An appeal for national confidence in the established principles of the American government was made last night at the Claypool Hotel by James E. Watson of Rushville, Ind., in an address at the second annual banquet of the Indianapolis Association of Credit Men, says the Indianapolis Star. His remarks were seconded in addresses delivered by William L.
Taylor and Rabbi M. M. Feuerlicht.
Mr. Watson's address was brief on account of a severe cold from which he was suffering.

"We are living in an age of transition," said Mr. Watson, "and some of the great principles that have upheld our nation are being picked to pieces by public men. I am not one of those who will cling to old customs and ideas because they are old, and I am not one to cling to new ideas because they are new, but I am not one to cast aside the old things that have been tried and found good.

"The slogan of this period is 'soak him,' 'swat him.' This is the time of 'againstness.' The politicians are always swatting somebody. We can not continue this policy and be a happy, successful and prosperous nation.
Confidence is as essential to the prosperity of a people as it is to the credit men. Confidence is the top stone that must be touched in working out the future of this republic."

Speaking in a lighter vein, he remarked: "I am glad to see that so many women are guests here this evening. Like 'Teddy' woman has her hat in the ring, and I hope that it will not be too large for her to climb in with it."

possible to observe that Tom J. Geraghty is implicated. Now, that's not slam on Tom, understand. It is not intended to express that he leaves his trademark every time he writes a série, no not that.

But sometimes he does let slip a little phrase that would identify it as emanating from his brain just as surely as two and two is four. In this instance, "Rushville, Ind." is the mark which Tom diffused through "The Little Herald" and which placed Rushville in the class with Oskosh, Lima, O., Ottawa and Muncie.

The front page of the eight-page sheet consists wholly of advertisements. The ads are local hits on the members of the Herald staff. For instance one ad reads, "How would you like one of those nice Ford runabouts? Chance of a lifetime. On exhibition in Editorial Department of the Little Herald every day. Ask Jim Ford. You'll see him running about the premises."

In the "lead" column is the inscription, "Main office, Little Herald Square, Little Old New York." Following that is the Owl dinner committee which published the paper and of which Tom J. is a member. The dinner committee consists of the Dramatic editor of the Herald, who is

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer, Famous London Chef.

IMPROVES ALL KINDS OF PIES.

By Martha McCulloch Williams.

Home without a mother is hardly sadder than a home without pie—mince, apple, peach, pumpkin, custards, plain and gorgeous—every sort of pie, indeed that it has entered into the human mind to concoct and the store room to furnish forth. Each and several, these can be baked in paper bags to their great improvement. The improvement is particularly marked in the case of tartlets and turnover, of which the paste is so essential a part. Doubt it who will, the fact remains that pie crust is better, flakier, of richer flavor and more digestible when cooked in a bag than when cooked naked.

Along with the pies do not forget dumplings. The open-faced sort—my special delight—for a while seemed to me taboo paper bag cooked. But love finds a way in cookery as in other things. I have found that by cutting rounds of paper out of a paper bag, six inches across, folding them V-fashion around the edges, and clipping the folds, I have cup-shaped paper molds to line with my paste, fill with fruit, sugar and seasoning, and cook inside another bag. Both the molds and the containing bag must be well greased.

M. Soyer's paste, which I have described several times in this series of articles, is very fine, but here is one that will answer as well for many things, and it is less trouble to make and also less expensive. Sift a quart of flour, add a pinch of salt, then cut into the flour with a very sharp knife a lump of very cold lard as big as the fist. Wet with ice water—barely enough to make it stick together. Roll out, spread over the top half a cup more of lard sliced very thin, fold over a square and roll out again. Spread with half as much lard as was used the first time, fold, roll out and dredge lightly over the top with flour. Begin at one edge and roll up the paste, lay it in a clean pan and set on ice an hour at least—much longer will not hurt. In pie making, cut off across the rolled dough an inch or half-inch section, according to the size of crust required.

Use tin or agate pie pans for paper bag baking.

To make pie dumplings cut rounds of crust about five inches across, lay an apple or any other fruit upon one with sugar, butter, spices, etc., then cover with another, and pinch the wetted edges very tight together.

Make mince and pumpkin pies after the directions given for an anniversary dinner. In addition, try sweet potato custards. If they are new to you, you are on the threshold of an experience. To make them, take half a pound of butter, cream it well, add five cups of sugar, and as the mixture grows too stiff, break into it whole eggs, one at a time. Use six eggs in all, then add a scant quart of sweet potato pulp, boiled, mashed fine, and free of lumps and strings. Beat hard for five minutes, then add the warmed juice of two large or three small lemons, beat again, and add half a cup of barely warm cream. If the batter is too thick to run freely, add milk until it is thin enough. Flavor with lemon extract—two tablespoonfuls for this quantity.

TOOTHsome SWEETS.

By Nicolas Soyer, Chef of Brooks' Club, London.

Pudding a la Munich: Take some slices of stale French bread and toast to a light crisp brown, then spread thickly, first with butter, then with golden syrup. Place a layer of golden syrup in a well-greased paper soufflé dish, sprinkle it with washed and dried chopped currants, chopped sultanas, a little chopped lemon peel and a very little grated nutmeg or alepice. Put a layer of the toast, then currants, sultanas, peel and spice, and repeat the layers until the dish is full. Make a custard with half a pint of milk, the well-beaten yolk of an egg and a tablespoonful of powdered sugar. Pour over the whole and leave for fifteen minutes. Meanwhile, whip the white of an egg to a stiff froth with a few drops of lemon juice; add a little powdered sugar and pile high on top of the pudding. Put in a well-buttered bag, bake to a golden brown for thirty minutes, and serve. The meringue mixture may be omitted and the custard made with the whole egg. In that case, bake the pudding for thirty-five minutes. Dust some powdered sugar over and serve.

Genoise Paste: Take six ounces of flour and sift it on a sheet of paper, then half a pound of powdered castor sugar and five ounces of butter, melted but not hot. Break six eggs in a basin and place the basin in some boiling water in a separate pan placed over gentle heat. Beat the eggs and sugar for twenty minutes or so with an egg-beater to a nice consistency. Take the basin off the fire and beat the contents a little again. Add flour and butter, mix lightly with a wooden spoon, but do not stir it up to a cream. Flavor according to taste. Take any kind of mold or tin you like, well butter it and dredge with castor sugar. Three parts fill it with the paste and place in the paper bag. Allow thirty-five minutes in a moderate oven. (Copyright, 1911, by Sturgis & Walton. To be continued.)

STRIPS COMMISSION OF CERTAIN POWERS

Commerce Court Hands Down Important Opinion.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The strongest check on the interstate commerce commission that has been applied to it by any court in recent years is found in an opinion handed down by the United States commerce court. The opinion involves the contention advanced by the interstate commerce commission and the government lawyers that the findings of the commission on questions of fact are final. The commission has contended that the power of naming a reasonable rate is purely legislative; that this function has been delegated to the commission by congress and that the commerce court cannot pass on findings of fact except in cases where the rates are shown to be confiscatory.

In the case just decided, which is known as the Louisville & Nashville railroad against the interstate commerce commission, the court criticizes the nature of the opportunity given the railroad to present its case, and says:

"There was no attempt to meet the case made out for the company either by way of argument or otherwise. Counsel for the commission and for the government simply relied on the authority of the commission to determine what is a reasonable rate. The law provides for a hearing, and it must be more than a shadow. Both parties are entitled to be confronted with the evidence on which the case is to be determined, and the conclusion reached must be a reasonable inference from the facts disclosed by the investigation."

The court adds that "the order here drawn in question must be held invalid as exceeding the delegated powers of the commission because there was no substantial evidence to sustain it." The court holds there was no valid basis for the commission's conclusion and annuls its order reducing the Louisville & Nashville rates.

The decision is looked upon as a decidedly important victory for railroads generally and will be appealed by the government to the supreme court of the United States.

ORSER ARCHIBALD AT THE HEAD

Member of the Faculty of the State School For the Deaf Donates Eighty Acres of Land in White County on Which to Found a Home For Aged and Infirm Deaf if an Endowment of $10,000 Can Be Raised to Support It.

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 29.—Orser Archibald, a teacher in the Indiana School for the Deaf and Dumb, has offered eighty acres of land in White county, on which to establish a state home for the aged and infirm deaf, to be located twelve miles north of Lafayette, in White county, near Brookston, provided $10,000 is raised for the maintenance fund for the home.

Mr. Archibald inherited a farm of 250 acres in White county. In his boyhood he attended school in Lafayette. After a long illness he became deaf and dumb. He went to DePauw university for a while and then to the National College for Deaf and Dumb in Washington, D. C. He is now sixty years old and a member of the faculty of the state school at Indianapolis. Mr. Archibald has been one of the leaders for the betterment of deaf and dumb people in the United States.

The offer of the land holds good for ten years, and if the $10,000 is raised at any time within that period the home can be established on the Archibald farm. Two thousand dollars of the amount is already on deposit with the German American Trust company of Indianapolis.

BOEHNE WITHDRAWS

Congressman Leaves Democratic gubernatorial Field to Ralston.

Indianapolis, Feb. 29.—The complete victory of the Ralston forces getting every delegate in this county at the primaries Tuesday has resulted in the closing of Congressman Boehne's headquarters here, and it is believed that this means his abandonment of the race for governor. It is admitted that Samuel L. Ralston of Lebanon will be nominated. A Washington dispatch says that Representative Boehne has prepared a statement withdrawing his name from the race. Mr. Boehne's withdrawal leaves Mr. Ralston in possession of a clear field, unless L. Ert Slack of Franklin should decide to try conclusions with Ralston.

JUDGE AROUSED

Juror Who Voted Blank Given Severe Reprimand.

Petersburg, Ind., Feb. 29.—Will Crecelius, a farmer, was severely lectured by Judge Bretz when it became known that he had voted a blank twenty-six times while serving as a juror in the case of Gideon vs. Blew. Crecelius told the judge that he could not decide whether the defendant was guilty or not guilty, and not wishing to be in the wrong, he voted a blank piece of paper. He kept the jury out for hours. The foreman reported the matter to Judge Bretz, who was so angered for a time he was undecided just what to do with the juror. Crecelius pleaded ignorance and was let off with an admonition.

To Dismiss Murder Charge.

Petersburg, Ind., Feb. 29.—Because of her extreme age and the fact that her son had already been found guilty of the murder of his father, William Grubb, and sentenced to the penitentiary for two to fourteen years, Prosecutor Harry Carpenter is preparing papers to nolle the charge of murder in the first degree against Mrs. William Grubb. The prisoner, who is past eighty years of age, was charged with assisting the son in killing the father and husband.

Waters on a Rampage.

Logansport, Ind., Feb. 29.—The big bridge across the Wabash river at Georgetown, eight miles west of Logansport, was swept from its foundation by the ice, which is gorged to a height of thirty-five feet below this point. When this jam gives away the bridge will be carried away with it. Miles of the country in this vicinity are under water and in many places only the tops of tall sycamores are to be seen above the surface of ice and water.

Track Walker Killed.

Valparaiso, Ind., Feb. 29.—Emil Erickson, a track walker for the Lake Shore railroad, was run down and instantly killed near Chesterton. When the train arrived in Chicago the engineer found an overcoat clinging to the pilot. Word telegraphed back along the line resulted in a searching party from Chesterton discovering the badly mangled body. Erickson was fifty years old. He is survived by a widow and five children.

Child Killed by Automobile.

Indianapolis, Feb. 29.—Leonard Lintz, three years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lintz, 423 West Thirty-first street, was run over and killed by an automobile driven by B. A. Richardson.

Lent Is Here Now and Here Are the Rules To Be Observed

Rest, refinement and growth are the three aims sought by the church by means of the Lenten season which opened Wednesday. In the first place Lent is intended to be a time of rest.

The church says the world is ever too much with people at large and the round of worldly pleasures in pursued with a dull monotony almost to the complete exclusion of spiritual cultivation. It contends that the soul cries out for attention; cries out to body and mind to pause awhile in their physical and intellectual pursuits in order to provide it also with an opportunity of development and growth.

The church teaches that in the second place Lent is intended to be a time of refreshment. Diocesan conference contend that Lent was never meant to be a season of dullness and monotony, rendered intolerably weary by the imposition of acts of self-denial which have no meaning in themselves and which bring no virtue into the life, but rather that it is intended to be a season wherein by sensible rearrangement of working hours and by reasoned denial of certain pleasures, the life of the soul may for a time be more diligently cultivated than during the rest of the year.

The following regulations for the season issued by Bishop Chartrand, of this Catholic diocese, have been read in all Catholic churches:

"In accordance with faculties granted by the Holy See, the following are the regulations for Lent for the diocese of Indianapolis.

"1. All the faithful, over twenty-one and under sixteen years of age, are, unless legitimately dispensed, bound to observe the fast of Lent.

2. They are to take only one full meal a day, Sundays excepted.

"3. The full meal allowed on fast days should be taken about noon. But if for any good reason, the principal meal cannot be taken at noon, it is permitted to take the collation at noon, and to put off the full meal till evening.

"4. Both fish and flesh are not to be used at the same time, not even on Sundays.

"5. A refreshment, commonly

A Cold, LaGrippe, Then Pneumonia

Is too often the fatal sequence, and coughs that hang on weaken the system and lower the vital resistance. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is a reliable medicine that stops the cough promptly by healing the cause; soothes the inflamed air passages, and checks the cold. Keep always on hand. called a collation, is allowed in the evening. No general rule as to the quantity of food permitted at this time is or can be made, but the practice of the most regular Christian is never to let it exceed one-fourth of an ordinary meal.

"6. On account of the existence of such custom the church tolerates the use of bread, butter, eggs, cheese, milk and all kinds of fruit, salads, vegetables and fish at a collation.

"7. For the same reason it is permitted to take in the morning some warm liquid as tea, coffee, or thin chocolate, with a little milk and a cracker, or a small piece of bread.

"8. Necessity and custom have authorized the use of lard instead of butter in preparing fish, vegetables, etc.

"9. By dispensation the use of flesh meat is allowed at any time on Sundays, and once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursday and Saturday, excepting the second and last Saturday of Lent.

"10. The following are exempt from the obligation of fasting: Those under twenty-one and those over sixty years of age, and sick, pregnant and nursing women, those who are obliged to labor hard, and all those who, through weakness cannot fast without injury to their health.

"11. Persons dispensed from the obligation of fasting are not bound by the restriction of using meat at only one meal on days on which its use is granted by dispensation.

"12. By virtue of an edict of the holy see, granted February 25, 1905, for ten years, we permit workingmen, and their families, the use of flesh meat once a day—and more than once a day in the case of those who are dispensed from fasting—on all the fast days and days of abstinence throughout the year, with the exception of all Fridays, Ash Wednesday, Wednesday and Saturday of Holy week and the eve of Christmas. Those who avail themselves of this dispensation, are not allowed to eat fish and flesh at the same meal, and they are exhorted to perform some other act of mortification, such as reciting additional prayers (the rosary for example), abstaining from intoxicating drinks, from the use of tobacco, foregoing pleasures, amusements, etc.

"We recommend that the faithful if at all possible, observe the vigorous abstinence at least on Good Friday.

"The Paschal time during which every practical Catholic is obliged to confess his sins and receive holy communion, extends from the first Sunday in Lent, February 25th, to Trinity Sunday, June 2, both inclusive.

"The annual collection for the Indian and negro missions is to be taken up on the first Sunday in Lent. A plenary indulgence is granted by the Holy Father to all that contribute, if they receive worthily the sacraments of Penance and the Blessed Eucharist on the Sunday on which the collection is made, and offer prayers according to his attention."

TELEPHONE NUMBER, 1111.

Thursday, February 29, 1912.

The Long Island oyster beds froze over in the cold weather, but there's a man at Oyster Bay that used to cut considerable ice.

Secretary Knox, in visiting the Caribbean republics, must be gaining many ideas on the most efficient methods of promoting revolutions.

As it is proving wholly ineffective for Father Bryan to spank Congress, he will have to try putting them to bed without any supper.

Mr. Shuster may have handled the Persian treasury successfully, but we would like to see what he could do in one of our cities with the alderman of each ward hollering for sewers and sidewalks.

The Republican party may not have gone ahead as fast as it ought to in removing tariff abuses, but it realizes, as the Democrats do not, that idle mills would create more suffering than tariff evils.

Wall street note: It having been reported that Mr. Roosevelt was preparing an editorial on the life and times of Habakkuk, depression pervaded Wall street, and declines of two or three points were recorded.

It is pointed out that if the men would lug food and groceries home and save delivery teams, prices would be less. But this would make dinner ten minutes later, and Norah would demand two dollars a week more pay.

We learn that people don't go to the White house receptions until 9:30 to 11:00 p. m., and they stay until 1 a. m. Tactful persons would reflect that Mr. Taft may want to get up at 6:30 and shake down the furnace.

It is proper to ask presidential candidates to discuss such subjects as simplified spelling and rotation of crops, but stirring them up on the tariff, woman suffrage, and the trusts, is about like gossiping about their family skeletons and poor relations.

It's time to think about those shade trees.

If you are a property owner in Rushville you surely take pride in seeing to it that the summer dress of your property is appropriate and attractive. And February is the month in which property owners should plan for the attractive appearance of their property during the summer. The time is now here for buying and planting the shade trees that are such pleasing frills on the otherwise summery dress of the nice house and lot. You have time to think about the coat of paint and sharpening the lawn mower a little later on. As for shade trees, the time is limited, for shade trees are not grown in a day or a week or a month.

The street on which shade trees are planted is the street on which most of us prefer to live. The house and lot that is surrounded by shade trees is the place where the most of us prefer to live. And, more important, too, the city of shade trees—which, other things being equal, means the "city beautiful"—is the city that attracts the attention of visitors, and visitors to a city can say a lot of things about that city, and what they say is good advertising or bad advertising just as the appearance of the city strikes them.

Rushville residents are proud of their city and their city's industries. But they can not be proud of the clothes their city wears if they don't dress the city up now and then.

The Socialist party of Oregon has started a movement to imitate a referendum under the State law with a view to abolishing the State legislature. They argue that in as much as the people with the initiative, the referendum and the recall established, have the power to make all laws, they see no need of the expense of a legislature. They would have the governor, secretary of State and attorney-general constitute a commission to approve and execute the acts of the people, prepare and pass petitions.

Best by Test—FAIR PROMISE.

etc. Why, that is Roosevelt's paramount issue. The Socialists of Oregon ought to give him their support. —New Castle Courier.

Lee Asks Pledge.

We are favored today with some nicely typewritten copy from Edwin M. Lee, lately retired chairman of the State Republican central committee and now acknowledged agitator of the Roosevelt boom in Indiana. In the specially written dispatches the former Republican chairman calls attention to the fact that the State organization is pledged to him not to further the interests of President Taft in Indiana. We would not presume that the State committee would do such a thing had Mr. Lee not considered it necessary to get the pledge of the members and then call the attention of the public.

Mr. Lee, in the special correspondence, calls attention to the fact that the State committee is responsible for the advancement of Republicanism in general and that the friends of any individual candidate should not embarrass the committee by identifying their cause with the committee. Of course, if the State committee should think that the advancement of President Taft's interests were advancing the interests of Republicanism in general, Mr. Lee could not deny them the privilege. It would merely be a little difference of opinion that's all. If the State committee thinks President Taft should be renominated for the best interests of the party, we say go it and let Mr. Lee go hang.

If Mr. Lee would hark back to the campaign of two years ago he could recall that the State committee did nothing but advance the interests of one certain candidate to the detriment of all other candidates.

PROMISED TO TAKE HER TO THE CITY

Ada M. Heaton Testifies She Left Clyde When he Returned to Simple Life.

HUSBAND GETS THE DIVORCE

Because she detested life in the country and had an inherent desire to see the great white lights in the city at night, and because her husband had promised her, when they were wedded, that he would take her to a big town, they separated when he decided to go back to the simple life of the backwoods, according to the testimony of Mrs. Ada M. Heaton in the divorce action in circuit court today, brought by her husband, Clyde Heaton. At the conclusion of the testimony, after Judge Blair had put a few questions to Mrs. Heaton to clear the situation a little, he granted a divorce to Heaton on the original complaint and refused Mrs. Heaton a decree on her cross-complaint. The costs must be paid by Heaton to get a divorce.

In the complaint and on the witness stand Heaton charged that his wife had been intimate with other men, and that he disliked for her cousin to live at their house. The court brought out that Mrs. Heaton had been divorced from her first husband and that she had lived with her second husband only from April 30, 1910, until August of the same year, when they parted, he going to the simple life and she to her home. Mrs. Heaton denied she had been intimate with other men and besides she said, her husband didn't have anything besides a shack to live in back on the farm. The case was heard during the noon hour.

The conscience-stricken person said he had acquired religion and wished to square himself. Mrs. Lorigan's father, Michael Foley, has been dead for fifteen years and before his death was a section foreman at Newpoint, Decatur county. The sender of the money asked that the $25 be divided among the numerous heirs. Each will receive $2.

DENOUNCES USE OF FORMIC ACID

H. E. Barnard State Chemist Finds This is Used as Preservative in Soda Fountain Fruits.

LOOKING FOR VIOLATIONS

State May Encounter Sequel to Benzoate of Soda Fight—Long Been in Use.

H. E. Barnard, chief chemist for the state board of health has announced that the department had completed a long series of examinations of fruits used in soda fountains and had found that formic acid was used extensively as a preservative. The Indiana law, Mr. Barnard said, does not recognize formic acid as an acceptable preservative, and prosecutions will be brought against persons who use it. Field inspectors for the department have received instructions to send in samples of fountain fruits suspected of containing the acid. It is probable the department will, on the question of formic acid, have as much of a fight as it had to eliminate benzoate of soda as a preservative in foodstuffs.

Authorities in the office of the chief chemist set out that formic acid is found extensively in nature. It is found in the excretion of ants, whence it gets its name. In the bite of the ant and the formic acid that does the damage. It is found in animal perspiration and in the leaf hairs of nettles. In acts, the authorities set out, as an irritant and as a stimulant to the muscular tissue, and in Germany is used by physicians extensively for the latter purpose. The acid is found also in pine needles, tamarands, lemons, limes, grapes and more extensively in raisins. It acts antiseptic. Its tonic effects, it is set out, resembles those of cola, cocoa and caffeine.

The Germans have found that by administering the acid as a medicine it does away with the feeling of general lassitude common in many maladies. It is applicable as preservative in fruits, fruit sirups and the like, but the authorities say it can not be used in catsups, milk, meat, etc., although Mr. Barnard said he was not prepared to subscribe to that claim. It is used in Germany in preserving lemon juice, which is there an article of commerce, and its use is set out on the label. The imperial health board of Germany recently said it did not favor its use, altogether its presence in the lemon juice was probably not harmful, because the juice was sparingly used.

Mr. Barnard said the acid, like benzoate of soda, should be used only as prescribed by a physician, because of its power as a stimulant and as an internal antiseptic. As the latter, he said, it interfered with perfectly harmless and beneficial bacteria action. He said the same objections to its use could be advanced as were advanced against the use of benzoate of soda—that by its use the food manufacturer could resort to unclean establishments make use of inferior materials in their manufacture. He said although many manufacturers had used it for years, they had never declared its use on the label, holding they had a right to keep it as a trade secret. Mr. Barnard will contend it is as much outlawed in Indiana as an added preservative as benzoate of soda. Virtually all the pure food laws, he said, would preclude its use unless the fact is set out on the label.

The examination in the laboratory followed a careful study of conditions extending over several months. The authorities have long suspected. Mr. Barnard said, that manufacturers were using some preservative other than benzoate of soda, but they were unable to determine what it was. One manufacturer outside the state told Mr. Barnard he had been using the acid for eighteen years and had never been found out.

Frenchman Who Discovered 123 Miles of New Land at South Pole.

Paris, Feb. 29.—While Dr. Charcot, the Antarctic explorer and recipient of the Cullom medal, was returning with his wife from a lecturing tour in Russia, he was arrested at Brancica, a frontier station, on the ground that his passports were irregular. Dr. Charcot immediately stirred up the French embassy at St. Petersburg and the newspapers, to whom he complained that the south pole would be preferable to a Russian lockup. He was released.

EASY AND SURE WAY TO CURE COLDS

Don't Neglect a Cold, Ely's Cream Balm Will Stop it in the Sneezing Stage.

A cold generally attacks the weakest part, affecting the eyes and ears in some and producing nasal catarrh and throat troubles in others. A cold is due to an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and may be promptly cured with a little Ely's Cream Balm, which immediately relieves the inflammation and all the distressing symptoms, such as sneezing, coughing, running at the nose and eyes, hoarseness, sore throat, fever and headache. One reason why this pure, antiseptic Balm acts so quickly is because it is applied directly to the tender, sore surfaces.

Even in severe, chronic cases of catarrh, Ely's Cream Balm never fails to quickly and effectually check the poisonous discharge which clogs the head and throat, causing the disgusting hawking, spitting and blowing of the nose. This remedy not only drives out the disease, but heals and strengthens the weakened membranes, thus ending catarrh.

Catarrh is a filthy, disgusting disease. Don't put up with it another day. Get a 50-cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and see how quickly you will be relieved. It is perfectly harmless.

C. A. Glossner, 24 Ontario St., Rochester, N. Y., has recovered from a long and severe attack of kidney trouble, his cure being due to Foley Kidney Pills. After detailing his case, he says: "I am only sorry I did not learn sooner of Foley Kidney Pills. In a few days' time my backache completely left me and I felt greatly improved. My kidneys became stronger, dizzy spells left me and I was no longer annoyed at night. I feel 100 per cent. better since using Foley Kidney Pills." F. B. Johnson & Co.

WOMEN ARRESTED

Snapshot Views Taken in Connection With Lawrence Strike.

ADVERSE COMMENT

Created by Attitude of Militia Toward Women Strikers.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 29.—A party of fifty or more men, women and children, operatives who worked in the woolen mills here and who have been on strike for more than seven weeks, left here for Washington today for the purpose of testifying at a congressional hearing on the troubles in the textile industry of the city.

Much comment has arisen over the action of three cavalrymen in chasing a group of women pickets over the common. Two of the women were arrested.

CONSPIRACY HEARING ENTERS NEW PHASE

Further Developments in the Schiff-Brandt Case.

New York, Feb. 29.—Former Police Inspector William W. McLaughlin, Mortimer L. Schiff and Howard S. Gans will, after all, be permitted to testify before the grand jury which is now inquiring as to whether Folke E. Brandt was the victim of a conspiracy. Brandt has been released on $7,500 bail.

District Attorney Whitman will consent to the appearance of Schiff, Gans and McLaughlin provided Judge Crain assumes the responsibility. If Judge Crain thinks the witnesses would not be automatically immunized if they signed a waiver of immunity, the district attorney will call the three men.

The principal new feature of the case is the letter, mentioned by Schiff in his statement that Carl Fischer-Hansen obtained, Hansen says, from a Tombs prisoner named Ryan, who had it from Brandt just before Brandt was taken to Sing Sing. The letter was written by Brandt to Mrs. Schiff and contained suggestions of the most offensive nature. Fischer-Hansen turned it over to Judge Rosalsky, who gave it to Gans. The grand jury is extremely desirous of examining that letter to see whether it was as Schiff says, the first evidence of a blackmailing scheme which had for its purpose leniency for Brandt.

Will Reorganize the Party.

Barcelona, Feb. 29.—Senor Lerroux, the Radical deputy, while presiding at a meeting of the Radicals here, took occasion to deny that there are dissensions in the party, which he said would be organized on a new basis. He said the Radicals would never allow ex-Premier Maura or Senor La Cierva to come into power again.

Developments Are Expected.

Constantinople, Feb. 29.—The Ottoman bank has sent a confidential circular to its branches in which it recommends that the utmost caution be exercised as important internal and external events are expected in the spring.

WANT TO STARVE THE REBELS OUT

Maderistas Plan to Close the Port of Juarez.

THE SITUATION AT EL PASO

Our Customs Officers on This Side the River Have No Instructions to the Contrary and Are Still Clearing Stuff Through For the Mexican Port of Entry Which Has Just Been Taken Over by the Opponents of Madero.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 29.—Tomorrow the Vasquista movement upon Chihuahua will begin, when 2,500 Vasquistas will leave Juarez by train for Sauz, at which point they will detain and march to Chihuahua. They will carry two heavy field pieces, two machine guns and 200,000 rounds of ammunition, in charge of two Americans, S. Dreher of Philadelphia and F. C. Richardson of Oklahoma City.

The rebels will go on trains if they can get them. All railroad equipment in Juarez was slipped over to El Paso, and unless they can get some from south of Juarez, the Vasquistas may be delayed in their departure.

All gambling has been suppressed in Juarez. This includes the keno houses. All saloons have been closed temporarily and all dance halls put out of business. This drastic action was taken by General Salazar to insure good order during the presence of the Vasquista troops in Juarez.

Order Has Been Restored.

The postal service has been resumed with the old postoffice force. Perfect order is being maintained and the Mexico Northwestern has been permitted to resume operation of trains. The races have resumed and the captured city is as orderly and quiet as it has ever been in its history.

There is a difference of opinion regarding the status of the El Paso-Juarez port. The Mexican authorities say that as far as the federal government is concerned the Juarez custom house and port is closed, as all of the federal officials are now in El Paso and there is no one there in authority to receive goods. The American customs officials say they have nothing to do with the Mexican situation, and as far as they are concerned and until the treasury department advises them to the contrary, they will continue to export anything which is properly manifested. The rebels have appointed their own customs officers. Mexico hopes to close the port and starve out the rebels and expects the United States to help them.

AS LAST RESORT

The British Government May Take Over the Coal Mines.

London, Feb. 29.—There is nothing at the present writing to indicate that the further conferences being held today by the miners and owners with the representatives of the government will have the effect of averting a total strike of all miners at midnight tonight. The mine owners are immovable and the miners are equally firm, notwithstanding the moral victory they have gained in obtaining recognition of the minimum wage principle by the government and a majority of the mine owners.

It is rumored that the government contemplates as a last resort the taking over of the mines, temporarily at least, or the enactment of a law fixing the minimum wage as a legal principle. There is evidence also that a large section of the miners are against peace in the hope that the government will be compelled to resort to the nationalization of the mines.

SHE MAY RECOVER

Aged Woman Had Painful Experience at Hands of Brutal Burglar.

New York, Feb. 29.—Within less than twelve hours Frank Cooper, a negro elevator man who was employed in the Riviera apartments at 2441 Seventh avenue, attempted a cold-blooded murder in an effort to rob an aged woman who was alone in her room in the apartment house, spent half of the money he had taken in midnight games, was seized by the police and had made a full confession of his crime to Inspector Hughes at headquarters. He described in detail how he had beaten Mrs. Huebner with his fists until she became unconscious, and then dragged her apparently lifeless body into the bathroom of her apartment and turned on all the gas jets in sight to insure against her living to be a witness against him.

Mrs. Huebner, who is in her eighty-first year, will recover from the brutal injuries she received at the hands of the negro burglar.

They Resented the Change.

Passaic, N. J., Feb. 29.—Bibles, prayer books, hats, collars and fragments of dresses and cloaks littered the street in front of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church last night after fifteen hundred parishioners, most of them women, had finished clawing each other and being clubbed by the police. The squabble started over the transfer of pastors, a German priest having been sent to the church over the protest of the Polish congregation.

A HEALTHY, HAPPY OLD AGE

May be promoted by those who gently cleanse the system, now and then, when in need of a laxative remedy, by taking the ever refreshing, wholesome and truly beneficial Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, which is the only family laxative generally approved by the most eminent physicians, because it acts in a natural, strengthening way, and warms and tones up the internal organs without weakening them.

It is equally beneficial for the very young and the middle aged, as it is always efficient and free from all harmful ingredients. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine, bearing the name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package.

NOT WITHIN LIMIT OF LAW'S PROVISION

Corn Growing Contests in Public Schools Barred.

Indianapolis, Feb. 29.—In an opinion to Charles A. Greathouse Thomas M. to Charles A. Greathouse, has held illegal a plan to promote corn growing contests among pupils of the common schools through appropriations from county councils. The question arose in St. Joseph county, where several contests were held last year with money supplied by subscriptions. This year the township trustees proposed to supply money from the township funds, but the state board of accounts held this could not be done legally.

Next it was proposed to form an organization of the township trustees and the county superintendent of the county, to be known as a corn contest association. This organization planned to go before the county council and ask for an appropriation from the county fund to carry on the contests. The attorney general held the organization could be formed legally, but that the county council could not legally appropriate any money to it. He said the only agricultural organization to which the council could appropriate money was an organization formed for the purpose of holding fairs.

THINK THIS OVER

This Offer Should Gain the Confidence of the Most Skeptical.

We pay for all the medicine used during the trial, if our remedy fails to completely relieve you of constipation. We take all the risk. You are not obligated to us in any way whatever, if you accept our offer. That's a mighty broad statement, but we mean every word of it. Could anything be more fair for you?

A most scientific, common-sense treatment is Rexall Orderlies, which are eaten like candy. Their active principle is a recent scientific discovery that is odorless, colorless, and tasteless; very pronounced, gentle, and pleasant in action, and particularly agreeable in every way. This ingredient does not cause diarrhoea, nausea, flatulence, griping, or other inconvenience. Rexall Orderlies are particularly good for children, aged and delicate persons.

If you suffer from chronic or habitual constipation, or the associate or dependent chronic ailments, we urge you to try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Remember, you can get them in Rushville only at our store, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets 50 cents. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, Lytle's Drug Store, Corner Third and Main street.

Backache Almost Unbearable

Is an almost certain result of kidney trouble. D. Toomey, 803 E. Olive street, Bloomington, Ill., says: "I suffered with backache and pains in my kidneys which were almost unbearable. I gave Foley Kidney Pills a good trial, and they done wonders for me. Today I can do a hard day's work and not feel the effects."

R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J., was troubled with a severe lagrippe cough. He says: "I would be completely exhausted after each fit of violent coughing. I bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and before I had taken it all the coughing spells had entirely ceased. It can't be beat." F. B. Johnson & Co.

STEEL TRUST IN THE LIME LIGHT

Expert's Report Says It Is In Restraint of Trade.

SOME ASTOUNDING FIGURES

In Not a Few Particulars These Contradict Testimony Given to Stanley Committee and Serve to Hold Up to Public View the Enormous Profits Realized by the Corporation Since Its Organization by Morgan.

Washington, Feb. 29.—The expert accountant employed by the Stanley steel investigating committee, Farquhar J. MacRae, has made his report to the committee. He says that the United States Steel corporation operates in restraint of trade through its price control and its domination of raw material and that the price control was maintained through the dinners given by Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the executive committee of the corporation. MacRae's report was the result of a detailed examination of the books of the corporation while the records were under subpoena by the committee. In several particulars the report contradicts testimony given to the committee.

A total of $69,300,000 was paid to J. P. Morgan & Co. for financing the syndicate that organized the trust, according to the report. In the first nine years of its existence the corporation earned net, the report said, $1,029,695,389, instead of $980,000,311, as is set forth in the reports of the corporation officials. This amounts to a net profit of $13 a ton on finished steel products.

Practically Controls Business.

Eighty per cent of the steel producing properties of the country are dominated by the corporation, the report says, although E. H. Gary and H. C. Frick told President Roosevelt when they absorbed the Tennessee Coal and Iron company in 1907 that the trust controlled, and desired to control, less than 60 per cent of the steel business.

The report showed in detail the dividends paid by the subsidiary companies of the steel company during the first nine years of its existence. The total amount was $753,124,386.53. The fact that the subsidiary companies operating in raw material made greater dividends than the finished products concerns was cited to show that the corporations kept the price of raw material up to the embarrassment of competitors.

In discussing the corporation's control of ore the report asserts that in all 2,500,000,000 tons out of 4,462,940,000 tons of available ore in the country is in the control of the trust.

RUSHVILLE, INDIANA
"The Home for Savings"

RUSHVILLE PLACED IN CLASS WITH KOKOMO AND MUNCIE

New York, feature dramatic writer, art editor, poet reporter, night editor, just a plain reporter (Tom Geraghty) telegraph editor, managing editor of the Evening Telegram—the evening edition of the Herald—and the cable editor of the Herald.

Below the names of the committee is the "Business Specials." In this list, among Sheephead Bay, Bellevue, Matteawan, Staten Island and Marlborough, is Rushville, which is explained in parenthesis by the words "European condition."

At the top of the editorial column Rushville breaks in print again. Under the heading "Terms to Subscribers" is the following: "Price five cents at Hotel Martinique and all branches of the McGinley-Fleming News Company. Ten cents at Elmira and Ship News, Free at Rushville, Ind., Jack's and the Marlborough bar."

At the conclusion of the annual banquet this year, a little two-act musical comedy was staged. Tom J. and Luther Reed appeared as "The Neverhomes." The theatrical jottings in "The Little Herald" informs us that Tom Geraghty, et al., well known in vaudeville as "The Children of the Abbey," have been engaged for the east of "The Neverhomes."

Tom's name and face appears unceremoniously at various places in "The Little Herald." In the "Nuts and Raisins" column it is written, "If Geraghty said that Colonel Roosevelt was a fakir would Roscoe Mir-chel?" That is only a sample of many of the "Heradills" distributed through the unique publication.

All dispatches to "The Little Herald" appears with the following in parenthesis above, "Special to the Little Herald by Commercial Cabbage system. Copy-rit by Little Herald. All rights pickled." Other nonsense and foolishness abounds in the neat little newspaper, but none of it would be of local interest.

SHE WANTS PLAIN MAN, THAT'S ALL

Some Rush County Widower May Uncover Rare Opportunity by Answering Want Ad.

RESULTS ARE EXPECTED

"Wanted—by a widow lady to correspond with a man who would like a companion," reads an advertisement in the "Want Ad" column of the Daily Republican. This column is one of the important features of this paper. All kinds of wants and desires are satisfactorily supplied.

If the advertisement in the Republican should succeed to furnish the worthy woman a companion to finish the journey down the western slope of life, the mission will be a worthy one. And there is no reason why the advertisement should not bring results. There certainly are plenty of widowers in Rush county who are looking for a genial companion.
